This report has been prepared using a template circulated by the Equality Commission.

It presents our progress in fulfilling our statutory equality and good relations duties, and implementing Equality Scheme commitments and Disability Action Plans.

This report reflects progress made between April 2019 and March 2020

PART A – Section 75 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 and Equality Scheme

Section 1: Equality and good relations outcomes, impacts and good practice

- 1 In 2019-20, please provide examples of key policy/service delivery developments made by the public authority in this reporting period to better promote equality of opportunity and good relations; and the outcomes and improvements achieved.

Please relate these to the implementation of your statutory equality and good relations duties and Equality Scheme where appropriate.

As set out in previous progress reports, NIAO has no formal remit in terms of assessing how well the bodies it audits are meeting the requirements of Section 75. However bodies audited by the NIAO are subject to Section 75 and the performance of these bodies against their Section 75 responsibilities may be relevant to our judgment about how economically, efficiently and effectively they have used their resources. Accordingly, a key way in which Audit contributes to promoting equality of opportunity is through our programme of work.

- 2 Please provide examples of outcomes and/or the impact of equality action plans/ measures in 2019-20 (or append the plan with progress/examples identified).

The NIAO conducts audits in accordance with legislation, reporting the results of its work to the Northern Ireland Assembly. It does not deliver services directly to the public. The greatest contribution the NIAO can make in terms of promoting equality of opportunity is raising awareness of the statutory duties in the course of its audit work.

The Section 75 action plan focusses on communication and HR and employment-related matters. These are reviewed and aligned to best practice.
